As of data publishing date, Wii Sports is the only standalone title to compete in sales numbers with that of franchises. It sold a third of all Call of Duty titles, but 67% more than that of the entire Final Fantasy franchise.

Titles rated above 90 sell the best, and the worse your rating gets so do the sales. One note, notable titles such as early NES classics were not often rated with a critic score, thus N/A rated titles are not counted here. In fact, 51% of titles have no critic score.
